

Jeremy dePrisco
Digital Media Specialist

How I Can Help You:

Event Planners: I provide expert event production, stunning video projection, and reliable live streaming to create memorable experiences for your audience.

Podcasters: Elevate your podcast with high-quality production, sound engineering, and DAW consulting to deliver professional and engaging content.

Educators: Interactive STEAM workshops and AI music presentations that inspire and educate, making learning both fun and impactful.

Businesses: Comprehensive event production, booking and promotion, and audio-visual services to ensure impressive and successful corporate events.

Studios: Professional music recording, sound design, and expert consulting to achieve industry standards and elevate your music production.

Transform Your Audio-Visual Experience with an Expert Digital Media Specialist

Have you ever sat through a dismal presentation with slides barely readable from the back of the room? Or listened to a podcast interview with an unexpected “guest” barking in the background?

Maybe the last conference you attended included breakout sessions that were often inaudible.

Do you recall anything from those presentations, podcasts, or events?

I’m Jeremy, the go-to expert that event planners, podcasters, and businesses wish they had met before those blunders happened.

With a passion for innovation and an unwavering commitment to excellence, I offer a comprehensive range of audio-visual services designed to elevate your projects and events. From music recording to live streaming, my expertise ensures top-notch quality and unforgettable experiences.
